MINISTER WHO RAN AWAY WITH WOMAN HANDED $500 FINE
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Newark, N. J.—The Rev. Cornelius Densel, former pastor of the New Netherlands reformed church of Passaic, was fined $500 after pleading guilty to violation of the Mann act. Federal Judge Lynch said he felt the clergyman had suffered enough so he would not send him to jail.

The minister left his family and his flock in the fall of 1920 and went to Buffalo with Trina Hanneburg, a member of his congregation. They returned a few months later. Then the parents of the girl sued him for $10,000 and he sold his home to settle the suit. He was relieved of his clerical post, but it was testified in court Tuesday that many of his old congregation attend service at his residence.

FOR A GOVERNMENT OF BUSINESS

For the second time this year aldermanic government received a body blow with the adoption of the manager plan in Janesville Tuesday. Kenneth took the lead in being the first city in the state to scrap the cumbersome city government based on the old English parliamentary plan and adopt the new method provided in the statutes of the state. Under this form of government the city will be operated as a business and not as an afterthought or something to be done when everything else has been looked after.

Without a campaign fund, without a great political machine, without the usual trimmings of inspiration to vote, the people of Janesville have registered their will. It seemed to be a common purpose and a common desire to accept the city manager plan as in keeping with an intelligent and forward-looking people. It may be said with truth that the result was spontaneous and expresses the will of the people. The laboring men and women had much to do with the result. The center, the small home owner, the man who toils —all of whom are affected at a greater percentage than any others, said little but went to the polls and voted for city management.

Credit for the one organization that so splendently succeeded Tuesday should be given to the women who with their committee for city management have been indefatigable in the last few weeks in getting the voters ready for election day.
To them is also the credit for the petitions which were circulated and finally were presented to the council and the referendum called under due and orderly process of law. Behind them solidly was the silent and conscientious vote of the masses.
They say little but are to be relied upon in the emergency to support honest and efficient government. That the result came as a surprise to those who have so misunderstood and misinterpreted the public mind as to feel that a long series of indignities would go without remembrance is not to be wondered at. A gentle horse will rear and throw its rider when spurred too much. It is to the credit of the women who have neither in public utterance nor in the published advertisements permitted anything but the dignified discussion of the governmental plan, that they have steadily schooled personalities and ignored many falsehoods and cheap and undignified personal attacks which have been the chief argument against the manager plan.

With the adoption of city management the responsibility of the public has not ended. Those citizens who have taken the great interest in this election are still responsible. One of the best things to come from the discussion of city management will be a deeper study of municipal problems. There is nothing in the whole field of government coming so close to the home as the one having to do with city affairs. We have a habit of waiting for the last moment before we delve into the intricacies of these matters. For two years the city manager law has been a part of the statutes of the state and yet how few have informed themselves about it. That is not strange but the time is at hand when everyone should be acquainted with the manager law and the responsibility of each citizen in permitting it to make good.

Other results of the election are equally satisfactory. The victory of Leroy Horn in the First ward is something of more than passing interest. He deserved his return to the council and his success is pleasing. The personnel of the new council is generally excellent. Janesville may expect from it a careful handling of the affairs of the city for the next year in a time when the utmost prudence will have to be exercised in financial matters.

Ever since the Wisconsin law was passed providing for city management the Gazette has believed that here was the best method so far devised for municipal government. For a long time there has been carried in the Gazette's platform a plank in advocacy of the plan. Other planks have appeared there and have served their purpose, won out by popular approval and been removed. So now can the city manager plank be removed from the list as an accomplished fact.

MR. CROWNPAINT ON THE BENCH

There is nothing savoring of the unexpected in the appointment of Charles H. Crownpaint to the place made vacant on the supreme bench of the state by the death of Justice Stebbins. It may be said that the naming of the new justice was dictated by political expediency on one hand and paying a debt of gratitude to an old and tried friend on the other.
There are people still sensitive enough to be

Reviving Masculinity for Men

Washington.—Growing aestheticism on the part of cello young beaux has driven into the open some men who feel that man must not be allowed to sink into effeminate daintiness. The strong-jawed, strong-limbed man must be encouraged rather than scorned, they say. The fact that a man cannot enter a lobby gracefully nor wear a cigarette with proper nonchalant expression of the lower lip should not be necessarily regarded as a handicap. It may be a sign of virility.
That certain college athletes, young men who have strength and prize it, are in the front rank of the rugged and perturbed dandies with hairnets over their pompadours, is regarded as one of the last straws by the back-to-masculine element.

This is not, of course, the first era in history in which young dandies have taken to performing hair or even to toupee-up features. The patch and wig of a century or two ago are still remembered.
How to promenade gracefully in a ballroom was as important and desirable an accomplishment for a man in those days as it was for a woman. But now, with society in a more frank and simple state, the effeminate coqueting and masquerading of cavalier days is out of place, the men say.
The tendency of women to dress like men is regarded as a further cause for alarm. The fear is expressed that soon women will present a more manly appearance than men, and after that the game may see a return to a masculine age with women as warriors, rulers, and judges of the nations.

Because of these tendencies and prophecies, men in several colleges are being urged to distinguish themselves in appearance to such an extent that the women cannot follow. They are asked, for one thing, to wear derby hats—a style of headgear for everyday use which is practically safe from women's pursuit. The only trouble with it as a popular institution is that the tight, stiff band is thought to cause baldness.
Corn cob pipes, which so far have not struck the fancy of the flapper, are also advocated as manly by pioneers of the he-man movement in one of these colleges.

At a meeting of a group of strong-jawed college men the other night, this question of clothes and appearance was uppermost. It was seriously debated whether pink, baby blue, and lavender should be regarded as unmanly when displayed in shirt patterns and ribbon suspenders. There was a motion made that neckties and shirts be restricted to strong colors such as royal purple, maroon, green, and burnt orange, but no decision was reached. Whiskers were also suggested, but they were denounced as unhygienic and messy. The little meeting had the appearance of a council of war, and some trouble in finding safe territory on which to plant their banner of defiance. Girls are wearing knickerbockers, men's shoes, four-in-hand neckties, socks—or their equivalent—short hair, and raucous overcoats. It is even whispered that some women are becoming eligible for the bald head clubs, whether from too much hair curling or hair pulling, is not certain.

How then, with all these accessories of manhood taken over by women, is the he-man to retain his identity, the pioneers asked themselves mournfully. They felt that the denouncing the practices of effeminate and solemnly swearing never to touch lip stick, powder, rouge, hair nets, shoe polish (for hair), or perfume stronger than two and a half per cent.

This secret meeting shows the earnestness of the pioneers in this new cause. Other signs, too, foretell a change in man's status to parallel the recent changes in that of women. Up to now, men have been standing back while women picked over the bargains in "rights." Women have been doing radical things in business, politics, professions, and with their appearance as well. But men have had no organizations to work for their social progress.

The first political agitator for the cause of men burst upon the horizon only a few days ago when a Maryland senator presented a bill of rights for men to the Maryland legislature. This bill, we understand, was taken more or less as a joke. But the pioneer comforted himself no doubt with the reflection that all great ideas are apt to be ridiculed at first and that he will some day be famous as the father of a Cause.

It is obvious that with the status of women changing so rapidly, the position of men must change to fit in with the new regime. So far men have met the changes caused by women's progress by stepping back, and to a certain extent this was fair enough, seeing that men had been the privileged class for some centuries.
But, eventually a more equitable readjustment of man's status must come. We were told by a modest member of the he-man clan who shirks from being quoted. Women, he explained, once contributed the housework and man the money toward keeping a home together. Now, some women earn money in the business world like their husbands and both come home at night as the husband once did.

The hitch in such arrangements, when a hitch occurs, is that the man "cooks the bills" while the woman may, if she chooses, save her money for herself. The husband promised to support her, and she sees nothing wrong in saving her salary while his goes to pay for coal, groceries, and the cook.

The balance of responsibility should be restored, it is claimed, so both parties would be required to contribute their share to the upkeep of the home. This sort of equal responsibility for married couples was one of the items in the Maryland statesman's bill of rights.

The other side of the case, which has long been agitated, should be provided for with equal fairness. That is, the wife whose contribution to the home is a full day's housework should receive her just share of the family income.
This is one of the questions arising in connection with the equal rights problem. Another was brought into court the other day by a man of 70.
He asked that his wife, who had left him, be ordered to pay him alimony on the grounds that she was younger than he was.

But the most serious problem, to the mind of the college he-man at least, is the question of appearance, which so far remains largely unsettled.
Aside from his steeple top, scarcely any article of his appearance is safe from adaptation by the flapper and feminist. And, once worn by a flapper, an article of dress never has quite the same dignity, even on a diplomat. more or less opposed to this method of political payment in filling places on the bench, and it has not very often been done. Still here in Wisconsin we may expect things that do not occur in other states. It is of course a personal disappointment to many of us in Southern Wisconsin that Judge Stevens, whose high character, legal learning and long experience in about the hardest and most exacting circuit of the state, was not appointed. Yet it is a matter for the governor to decide and while there may be resentment that the appearance that the highest bench of the state may be a political football, the people must accept the dictum.
Out of the clouds comes the news of the re-election of Burr W. Jones to the supreme court and that is a matter for general congratulation.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE FAIRY TALE MAN

He wasn't so successful in the busy market place.
The thoughtless used to whisper that he couldn't go the pace.
He wasn't built for battle, he was gentle as a child.
He was very meek of manner and his speech was always mild.
But when youngsters gathered round him he was never known to fall.
To hold their rapt attention with a wondrous fairy tale.

They called him Uncle William and they never seemed to care
That his coat was old and shiny and his trousers thin and bare.
They didn't know he wasn't making money in the town.
They loved him though he hadn't any claim to world renown.
He could lead them on adventures down the happiest of trails.
And was richer than a banker when it came to fairy tales.

They couldn't see his weakness, they could only see his mind.
Which was stored with fairy stories of a most entrancing kind.
The grown-ups called him simple, something old folks often do.
But the children looked around him for the wisdom that he knew.
And they idolized old William, poor of purse and sometimes frail.
Who knew better than their fathers how to tell a fairy tale.

Perhaps he was a failure, it is not for me to say.
He met his round of duties in an easy-going way.
He bore no heavy burdens and his purse was always slim.
But the children idolized him and they saw no fault in him.
Though some say his years were wasted, in my thought he thought he was.
That God made Uncle William just to tell those fairy tales.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

"FARMER BOY" POET ARRIVES.

Julia A. Moore was the "sweet singer of Michigan." William Price is the "farmer boy" poet of New York in the daytime and night clerk at the Hotel Algonquin nights.
Like the redoubtable Art Moss, William Price has never taken a lesson in his life and makes it all up out of his own head. He is believed to be the only poet in the world who has succeeded in rhyming the word "later" with "mauer" and "under" and in the same poem. This feat is performed in the following poem, entitled, "Good-bye, I'll See You Later."

Of all the many sayings you hear throughout the year There's one particular greeting that you will often hear.
"I've said it by young and old, and folks of every nature.
This frequent salutation, "Good-bye, I'll see you later."

You hear it on and off the street. You hear it near and far.
On crowded thoroughfares, the rumbling trolley car.
Around clubroom and race course, hotel or theater.
These parting words are ever thus, "Good-bye, I'll see you later."

Please pardon rude expression, but this I do declare Will be our last fond greeting when we climb the golden stair.
Free from the world of sinning and with the undertaker.
It's one best but you'll hear us say, "Good-bye, I'll see you later."

Another live-dead one. Headline in New York paper says: "Wife Tells How Dead Man Once Shot Her."

Who's Who Today

R. B. HOWELL.

The fight for the nomination at the senatorial primaries in Nebraska this coming summer has been interesting. Senator Hitchcock's effort to obtain the nomination is not to be opposed by the Democrats. It is said, but at least two Republicans will seek the office.

One of these is R. B. Howell.
Howell is now Republican national committeeman from Nebraska. He is general manager of the Metropolitan Utilities district, which embraces Omaha's municipal water, gas and electric plants.
He is known for his public ownership policies.
He was born in Adrian, Mich., January 21, 1894. He attended the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., the Detroit school of law, his first political appointment was that of state engineer of Nebraska. Then he served as city engineer of Omaha.
He was elected to the state senate in 1913 and during his service as senator advocated public ownership of utilities and was instrumental in obtaining legislation providing for the public ownership of Omaha's water supply and the creation of the Metropolitan water district of Omaha, including Omaha, South Omaha, Dundee and Florence. He has been director and manager of the district since 1915.
He has been Republican national committeeman since 1912. He was a nominee for governor in 1914.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Forty Years Ago

April 5, 1882.—Election day here passed off quietly, with no excitement of any kind at the polls. There were a number of split tickets.
T. Croft, Democrat, won over W. T. Van Kirk, Republican, for mayor, with a majority of 102 votes.—C. E. Church is city clerk and J. M.
Haxelton, city treasurer, and E. M. Hyzer, city attorney.

Thirty Years Ago

April 5, 1892.—Voting began early today, but not with a rush. Many politicians came inside the 100-foot margin around the polls, as the day advanced, but caused no other trouble.
The roof of the rear building of the School for the Blind was torn off last night by the terrific wind. Other damage was done in the city.

Twenty Years Ago

April 5, 1902.—Officials of the American Fence and Post Co., are now in the city considering with members of the Janesville Business Men's association. They may locate here.
A meeting of the association will be held April 7 and the matter decided.—The foundry of the Rock River Machine Co., recently burned, will be rebuilt and the entire plant remodeled.

Ten Years Ago

April 5, 1912.—Janesville may have a new school, says Dr. F. B. Backmaster, president of the school board, although the interest of the citizens has not been sufficient to warrant one.
The last legislature paved the way, and with help from Janesville people, the industrial school could be started.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

PUT ON YOUR PEDOMETER

This is the time of all the year when every one who is not an invalid and who does wish to enjoy health should get his pedometer. A pedometer which will be set at two miles on the hoof in a day, or if you prefer, or if you can't understand medical Latin, six miles in one dose any time in the day, or night, though preferably while the sun is up.

A pedometer costs a trifle and affords a certain degree of interest in measuring off distances. It also does tend to stimulate walking, just for the childish pleasure of watching the thing work. By all means add a pedometer to your health armamentarium—it is a darn sight more economical to indulge in such a plaything than it is to go to the movies or buy some clatrap magazine. The purchase of a pedometer is a matter of health interest, and notwithstanding all our health propaganda and the efforts to teach health in schools there is no getting around the fact that the great majority of people in the country are still practically ignorant of considerations of health, though they are only too eager to investigate symptoms, diseases and remedies. Such popular interest as finds tangible expression is centered almost exclusively on the morbid side, not on the wholesome or cheerful side.
Thousands of people suffer from restless nights, backaches, inability to list symptoms—because of their miserable sleeping arrangements, and people, too, who can and do afford very good clothes and all sorts of unessential—or actually harmful luxuries. This is just one illustration of popular ignorance in the wholesome side of health. Just about as quick of going to bed every night to take punishment whereas for a reasonable investment within the individual's means, hitting the hay might be a veritable joy.

There is considerable interest in comparing the way the average mortal spends money for nostrums, notional and verbal, which engaged with such overwhelming force to his credulity, with his niggardliness and downright self denial in the matter of his own sleeping equipment, for instance. Thousands of people suffer

Q. In the reports of Wall street brokerage firms going to the wall, the announcement is made that the probable cause was "bucketing orders." What does that mean? O. E. K.
A. The word "bucketing" is derived from "bucket shops." Bucket shops are run by irresponsible brokers, not members of any stock exchange, and do a marginal business upon one dollar a share and upwards.
As a matter of fact, in the case of a bucket shop, the stock itself is usually not purchased or sold for the customer. When an order has gone through the machinery of a bucket shop, the right to buy or sell is theoretically executed, it has been "bucketed." No actual purchase or sale takes place, the broker must pay losses if the customer has lost, and the right to buy or sell is if the opposite. "Bucketed" is used to denote the handling by a legiti-mate stock exchange broker of his customer's accounts on bucket shop methods.

Q. Are fish scales of any use com-mercially? R. J.
A. Great quantities of fish scales are used in making artificial pearls.
Q. What does the term "quarter horse" mean?
R. J.
A. A "quarter horse" is a term applied to an individual who can make spectacular records but cannot be relied upon for a good steady pace. It is a matter of fact that the "quarter horse" was originally used on the race course, meaning a horse in a race who was capable of terrific speed for a short distance such as one-quarter of a mile and who could then cover three-quarters of the mile at greatly reduced speed.

Q. When was Washington's birthday first celebrated? W. W. B.
A. The first recorded celebration of Washington's birthday occurred in Richmond, Va., in 1763. It was celebrated there and in other places until 1793, it was generally adopted.

Q. Is there a Mohammedan church in the United States? R. G.
A. A mosque has been built in Highland Park, Michigan. The first mosque for Islam, the "Moslem Sunrise," is published there, and the first Moslem mission to America.

Q. Why is the new wireless called radio? J. V. N.
A. The word "radio" was coined because radio is an abbreviation for radiation and the radio gram is the instrument for radiating electronic energy through air.

See the Great Dream of the Ages

Christopher Columbus, believing the earth was round, had the dream of discovering a westward passage to India.
Overcoming tremendous obstacles at every point, he discovered the continent on which is now cas-tled the greatest nation of the earth.
The dream of the westward way to India was not yet dead, though until the American Government banned the Panama Canal, the canal is far and away the greatest engineering feat ever accomplished in all history.
Not one American in a hundred who ever had the opportunity of seeing the canal itself. But anyone can—entirely without cost—see a colored map showing a perfect idea of the B. & O. Canal. Merely clip out and mail the coupon below.
Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Be sure the name and address can be easily read.

Frederick J. Haskin, Director,
The Janesville Daily Gazette
Information Bureau,
Janesville, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamp for return postage and a free copy of the Panama Map.

MONROE PLANS BIG COMMUNITY HOUSE

Monroe.—A $170,000 community house is being contemplated for this city. Plans of the proposed structure were given at a meeting of citizens Tuesday night. The Rev. A. A. Krug and others have been working on the plan for years. It will be a recreation center and will have dormitories, an auditorium and a large swimming tank. No funds were subscribed at the meeting.

Beloit.—Roy Chapman Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Andrews of this place, will soon be on his way into Mongolia with a party of professors and others, like himself, interested in archeology, who hope to find data which will shed further light on the origin of man. Mrs. Andrews will go as far as Turin, later returning to Bellevue. Both hope to return to this country for a visit next winter.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1922 Astrologers read this as a very uncertain day. Although Uranus is in benefic aspect early in the morning, Jupiter, the Sun and Neptune are adverse later in the day.
It is not a favorable time for business enterprises and there may be many failures this month.
Decline in stocks, predicted before the first of the year, will be marked later in the spring, the sectors foretell.
This is not a promising configuration for those who seek favors of any sort. Political aspirants have a most threatening aspect.
Criticism and misjudgment of men and women in places of the Sun may be expected at this time.
All who seek to achieve large results in any line of effort may expect to be hampered and thwarted, owing to the sinister influence of Uranus.
Scandals that touch men and women who hold the confidence of the public are prophesied. Governors of states and heads of large institutions should be especially discreet.
This is not an auspicious direction of the stars for travel by sea and there may be danger on land, owing to strange accidents.
Again hospitals come under unfavorable influences that may cripple them for lack of sufficient funds will be felt in many cities.
Spain and Portugal continue under the most unfortunate guidance of the planets and they may be the scenes of disaster and misjudgment.
Ancient lore found this aspect most propitious for the hiring of women in any capacity.
Excessive drought in many parts of the world is to be expected, if the interposition of the stars of the year 20 is to be trusted. South America will suffer and will be the scene of unusual earthquakes.
Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of travel in the coming year, but they should guard against losses of various sorts.
Children born on this day should be original in ideas and intuitive to the point of clairvoyance. They may be rather proud and inclined to self indulgence, but able to accomplish great things.

Boxing Here Given Knockout by Decision of Elks Club

Copyright 1920 by Geo. McManus

DEFICIT OF $1200 PROMPTS ACTION OF LOCAL LODGE

With a wicked array of tongue lashings, the two fisted game of leather pushing was the victim of a haymaker punch administered Tuesday night by the local lodge of Elks, as a result, boxing is dead in Janesville.

All that remains is to call the underwriter in the form of an auditor, embalm the corpse and pack it away in the archives of history. However, it is believed the franchise will continue in force for the balance of the year.

When the local boxing situation was brought up on the floor of the lodge, no member of the committee of the Janesville Athletic club, a subsidiary of the Elks, was present. President E. J. McKillop had been in the room earlier in the evening to hand in his report.

The club stands to lose at least $1,200, according to the financial statement submitted. Whether the club will assume the responsibility is a matter to be brought up probably at the next meeting. An auditor will be given the statement for checking purposes.

At Tuesday night's meeting the club voted to request the appearance of the night club committee at its next meeting to go over the situation in full.

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINCLAIR

Albany, Wis., is not a large town—741 inhabitants to be exact—but they are wild about wrestling. Whenever there is a match of importance anywhere, fans from there phone the Gazette for returns. A number of stars have appeared on the mat there. Such men as Evans and Furman have appeared. Waitney Wickham of Watworth has climbed the ladder over there.

Appearance of Rotary and Kiwanis members upon the bowling alleys here during the season now closing, has done much for the game. They are positive boosters of every sport, and they enter and for sports they will do a wonderful amount of good. We await their return to the drive next year and predict a great season.

Last week the page brought up the subject of rowing in high schools. Now comes the Amateur Rowing Association of America with the announcement they will make every effort to put the name on a basis with football and baseball in "prep" schools throughout the country. Crews at Janesville, Rockford, Beloit, Port Atkinson and Jefferson, among others, would make a great annual regatta possible if someone would start something.

At the State school for the blind, this city, athletics and physical education are used as an essential to the welfare of the students. Indoor and outdoor activities are indulged in. The annual outdoor field meet is one of the sporting history of the city.

Circulation of a petition with a million signatures for lifting of "Babe" Ruth's suspension is going to use up a lot of paper in the city. At best it will be but a tribute to the popularity of the "Sultan of Swat." It will never swerve Commissioner Landis.

Coach Menzies of Wisconsin urges revision of the girls' basketball rules. He declares they are too stringent and tend to retard progress of the game for the future, but make it too slow. From the standpoint of interest for the fans, he is correct. But from physical welfare of the young women there is some doubt.

Deficit in baseball for the Simmons Bed company of Kenosha last summer was $22,392.20. The cost of the season was $38,035. Of these figures are being used to substantiate necessity of raising the price of admission 20 cents.

John Spearman, professional golfer of Omaha, replaces Robinson as instructor of Racine Country club. Robinson goes to the Blue Mount club, Milwaukee.

Lloyd Scott, Racine legion football player, will coach Marquette freshman team.

Winners of J. C. state pin meet at Fond du Lac were: Five men—Kunzelman, Besser, company, Milwaukee, 5790; doubles—Koeke, Oiler, Schor, 1837; singles—Marvin, Fond du Lac, 604; all events—G. Post, Madison, 1822; high single—Post, Madison, 256.

Women's spring sport registration closes Wednesday at University of Wisconsin.

Fight Talk—Dave Shale, California welter, won decision over Nace Siegel (10), Johnny Dundee, New York, won referee's decision over Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, at Toronto (10). Ever Hammer knocked out Maxie Green at Chicago (5). Captain Bob Finner, heavy given decision when Pat McNancy withdrew claiming foul at Holyoke, Mass. (4). Midget Smith, Salt Lake feather, won decision at Tommy Gell, San Francisco, at Salt Lake City (12). Clarence Elkland, Sheridan, Wyo., defeated Helmer Myre, Albert Lea, light-heavy wrestler at Albert Lea, Minn. (2).

A poll of fans rejected Black Sox at Quincy, Ill.

Australia may withdraw from Davis tennis play.

Brewers may tax pass holders 10 cents for war tax fund.

Ty Cobb twists ankle sliding.

With Red Faber pitching, White Sox beat Giants, 6-2.

Seattle beat San Francisco, 5-2, and Oakland triumphed, 7-5, in opening Pacific coast league.

Chicago city hall baseball team admitted to Midwest league. Racine, was rejected.

Beloit Ladies play practice game at Pratt field, Chicago, Sunday.

New Richmond plays Kalamazoo and Waukesha tackles Grand Rapids Central Wednesday in Chicago basketball tourney.

Bako-Rites vs. Merriok Dairies...1-2

Yahn's Kelleys vs. Lewis Union...1-2

Suits vs. Shortleaf...1-2

Crown Dairies vs. Shortleaf...1-2

Wednesday night and next week mark the closing matches of the City Bowling league with the Merriok Dairies sitting pretty in first place and having three best games to make up. Nevertheless there isn't any chance of them losing the cup. Because of failure of a number of teams to keep pace with the schedule, a few of them still have back games to make up. A tight race is on for second place.

Should the Janesville Pure Milk continue in the struggle they have exhibited the last few weeks, the Gazette is in for a hot night. The same with the Merrioks, who clash with the Bako-Rites. It will be an evening of first and second division squads meeting. Yahn's Springfield promise to give the rising Lewis Union a rub, while Cronin's are after their competitors, the Shortleafs.

The First Lutheran and St. Mary's, tied with the United Brothers for first place, will stage a smashing battle. St. Patrick's will try to stave off the advance of the Congregationals who threaten their position.

Spaulding Crew Beats Male Five

When Rubberberg's crew of pill-slingers stepped out next time to entertain the ladies on the drives they'll not be wearing spring suits. So say the Spaulding Blue Ribbons, who turned out to be anything but the clinging type of femininity. The women's same bunch that defeated a Kiwanis team a short time back—beat them two out of three, in the first by 33, in the second by 113 and then with enough to-top the match rested and were good to the men in the third handing it to them by 21 pins. Clean hit 311.

The scores:

Spaulding's Blue Ribbons:

Matthews...150 182 157 489

Knoop...142 167 140 449

Gleason...132 211 151 494

Garbutt...147 155 113 415

Spaulding...112 145 117 474

Totals...712 857 717 2286

High team score, single game, Blue Ribbons, 897.

High team score, total three games, Blue Ribbons, 2286.

High individual score, Gleason, 211.

Second high individual score, Matthews, 182.

Janesville's fire loss in the first three months of 1922 amounts to $7,000, slightly less than half of the total loss for all of last year, according to the quarterly report of Chief C. J. Murphy submitted to the common council Monday night. Most of the damage this quarter was covered by insurance.

The loss by months was: January, $5,215; February, $1,810; and March, $67.

The department responded to 95 alarms during the quarter of which 28 were in March. There were 81 still alarms, five of which were for alarm boxes, and 15 for alarm boxes, two of which were false.

Hose to the amount of 4,150 feet was laid during the month—2,400 in January, 1,400 in February and 350 in March. Five hundred and fifteen feet of chemical hose was laid.

Only $11,000 worth of building work was started in Janesville in March, according to the monthly report of the building inspector showing 20 permits, 25 inspections and $21,000 in fees. Permits were issued as follows: Two dwellings, three garages, 11 additions and one excavation job.

Inspections were made by Glenn Snyder, sealer of weights and measures, during the first three months of 1922. His quarterly report shows 238 scales and measures scaled as correct, 48 adjusted and 12 condemned. Ninety-seven of the inspections were made last month.

Due to several liquor raids and the catching of more speculators, the number of arrests increased in March to 23, according to Chief Charles Newman's monthly report. Arrests were made as follows: Possession of liquor, 12; drunkenness, 5; for other crimes, 3; riding bicycle on sidewalk, 2; delinquent boy, 1; non-support, 1; driving auto while drunk, 1; vagrancy, 1.

Twenty-four were taken to court, six were discharged while three went to other cities.

Motorcycle Patrolman Case was that in arrests with a Chief Newman's monthly report. Arrests were made as follows: Possession of liquor, 12; drunkenness, 5; for other crimes, 3; riding bicycle on sidewalk, 2; delinquent boy, 1; non-support, 1; driving auto while drunk, 1; vagrancy, 1.

The new visiting nurse, Miss Hilda Andreas, submitted her report for March showing 142 visits to 72 patients, 21 of whom were added during the month. She spent 78 hours in homes, 54 hours in office work, 8 hours in interviews, one day in the infant welfare clinic and attended one meeting.

Fines, fees and penalties collected in municipal court during March amounted to only $273.27, one of the smallest months in some time.
